SUNDAY BEER BY COUPON.

Henry Willert, of the Beethovens, Arrested for Selling on Sunday.

Henry Willert was arrested last evening for selling liquor upon Sunday. He is an official of the "Beethovan Singing Assodetion," which had beer to drink Sunday afternoon. Willert, it seems, upon that day the grand keeper of kegs, and he dispensed the liquor, taking coupons for payment. The coupons were sold six for was not necessary to be a member of the

be tested.

AMUSEMENTS.

Wildwood-The "Pinafore" Revival. Although seventeen years have passed since "Pinafore" was first produced at the ca, it was revived at Wildwood Park last night almost as a new opera to many, and in a manner that was highly commended by the unusually large crowd present. Of course many were there who had seen it, perhaps, a score of times, yet the beautiful solos, duets and choruses had been all but forgotten. As the old familiar numbers came up they were greeted with much applause. Little Buttercup's popular song was the first. In this Miss Minnie Emmett's liquid contralto was heard to good effect and the crowd would not be satisfied until the "catchy" ballad was re-peated. Miss Emmett was rather inclined to take Little Buttercup too seriously, but the apparent stiffness will probably wear away after she gets fairly settled in the Ada Palmer Walker made the hit of the ng as Josephine. Her voice has not heard with better effect since her here, while the artistic costumes worn by her in "Pinafore" set off her blonde beauty to the very best advantage. On her first appearance, bearing a basket of flowers, she was welcomed with graceful applause and received an encore on "Sorry her lot who loves too well." The "Refrain audacious tar" duet with Rackstraw was very prettily sung and acted by Miss Walker and Harold Blake and was also ncored. The "Farewell, my own" sung fective of any of the more serious numbers of the opera and here again Miss Walker and Mr. Blake sang excellently. The glamor of romance about the roles of Josephine and Rackstraw has always made dward Temple makes the best sort of Sir Joseph, and his suite of sisters, cousins and aunts was another one of the taking features of the "Pinafore" revival. The famous trio, "Never Min I the Why and Wherefore," sung by Sir Joseph, the Captain and Josephine, was no less charmthan "He is an Englishman," in which Charles Huntington had his best opportunity during the evening. Huntington's transformation from the Mikalo to Dick Deadeye is an artistic piece of work and almost as striking as Edward Temple's glide from Koko to the exalted Sir Joseph. Sir Joseph's old song describing how he became "ruler of the Queen's navee," though little ise but nosense to Americans, who could hardly be expected to apreciate the bur-lesque in it, went as well as it did years when first nung in this country. opera, as a whole, was very prettily rendered, and won more general applause than did either "The Mikado" or "The Chimes." Tellula Evans had the rather insignificant role of Hebe, but was given an opportunity in the second act to show she l has her high soprano voice. She sang t pretty ballad, "Dearest," and was back to repeat it. The singers were somewhat crowded on the deck of "Pinafore" last night, because of the failure of part of the ship to arrive in time from Chicago. To-night the deck will be two yards wider, giving the company sixteen square yards more of room on

TEMPORARY SET-BACK FOR THE GOVERNOR IN THE ROBY CASE.

Murder Mystery Connected with the Dead Burglar at Poland-Fight Between Cat and Sparrows.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SEYMOUR, Ind., July 15 .- Considerable excitement was created at Uniontown, a small country town nine miles southwest of this city, last Saturday by the poisoning of Fleming Sarver and his wife, aged about sixty. The annoucement was made by Dr. Bard. On investigation it was found that Dollie Belknap, an adopted daughter, aged fourteen, had purchased a package of Rough on Rats of William Lee, a general merchant of the town. When the young girl was confronted with the evidence she made a confession. Mr. Sarver lingered until this evening when he died. Mrs. Sarver, who was thought to be recovering, had a relapse, and is not expected to live.

The young woman was keeping company with Hayes Robins, aged seventeen, the son of a well-to-do farmer, and she implicates him as having instigated the crime. She claims that she received a letter from Robins telling her to do away with the old folks, and that she would then come into possession of all of their property; "that they would then build a new house and have a grand old time." This letter Dollie showed to Josle Derringer, aged sixteen, Opera Comique, in London, and for years and her younger sister. Dollie claims that the girls advised her to get the Rough on Rats and put it in the coffee, After making the confession she said she did not now believe that Robins had written the letter, but that it had been written by the Der-

Dollie put the poison in the coffee pot last Friday evening, and the old couple drank it for breakfast Saturday morning. She says that she did not want to kill them, but that she wanted to make them so sick that they would think that they were going to die, and that they would then give her a deed to the property. ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY. Hands of the Dead Burglar of Poland Were Red with Blood.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 15 .- The police think there is a possibility that the burglar who was killed at Poland a few nights ago had committed murder in Chicago before he came here July 2. He went under the name of Jackson while ere, and in a satchel which he expressed from here to Indianapolis and since returned to this city, there were found papers and clothing bearing the name of T. E Jackson. The police know the dead burglar's Gallatin, Mo., with T. E. Jackson, who was a dentist, and who lived at Altamont, Mo. The latter had a license to practice dentistry from the county clerk of Daviess county, Missouri. The two men went to Chicago, and about that time a man was murdered there whose identity has not been disclosed. The discrepancy in the theory is because he left Gallatin July 1 and arrived here July 2. The theory is that Shaw took Jackson's clothing and assumed his name when he came here. In the satchel there was a diploma of gradua-tion from the dental college at Kansas City, on March 10, 1892. The police have received letters from the city marshal of Gallatin, Mo., and from Jackson's father, saying that Jackson left Gallatin with a young man named Shaw. The father writes as follows from Altamont: Thomas E. Jackson, who had a dentist's certificate from county clerk of Daviess county, Missouri, is my son. Will you send me all the particulars and tell me where buried. My son had a dent at the root of nose, was twenty-four years old, sharp nose, wore a suit of black, cutaway coat, derby hat and tan shoes. I hope to God it is not he that is killed, but give me all the particulars you have. I am too poor to come to see about it. I hope—yet I dare not. There has never been a stain on my family, and it is one of the oldest in Missouri. Tell me everything you have in your possession, so I may know. Hasten your reply and very much oblige a distracted reply, and very much oblige a distracted ather. T. B. JACKSON." From the description given by the father. it is believed that the man killed at Poland to commit burglary was not Jackson. There are other reasons for believing that he Shaw. His body was turned over to Indiana Medical College, at Indianapo-

The Maltese Robbed a Nest and Was

Set On by the Birds. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, Ind., July 15 .- A hundred Andersonians witnessed a lively encounter this morning between a large 'Maltese "Tom-cat" and a score or more of English sparrows that took place in the heart of the city. "Tom" invaded the nest of a sparrow in the loft of Merrick's livery barn, that stands across the street from Hotel Doxey. The mother of the young birds showed fight, and her piercing cries soon brought a score or more of other sparrows to her rescue. "Tom" teat a hasty retreat. but the birds followed him out into the street, where the battle waxed hotter and

By this time "Tom" was squalling at the top of his voice, and his eyes glowed like coals of fire. The fight continued up the street till the hotel was reached, when "Tom" made a dive for the office, but was headed off, and at last found refuge under a cab that stood in front of the door. A large crowd gathered and saw the fight waged by the birds on their common enemy. Under the cab the birds could not reach "Tom" without subjecting themselves to great langer from his sharp claws, and soon flew back to the barn, chattering and making every possible manifestation of delight (ver the victory. SET-BACK IN ROBY CASE. Governor Matthews Will Have to Sign Information Papers. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HAMMOND, Ind., July 15 .- In the Circuit Court, at Crown Point, to-day, the State struck another snag in its fight against the Roby race track. When the injunction case was called up before Judge Gillette this afternoon the defendants were on hand to fight the case and a motion was filed asking for a dissolution of the temporary injunction on the ground that the informant, Governor Matthews, had not personally signed the information, but that it had been signed by the Governor's attorneys. After considerable argument the held that the information was invalid, but instead of granting a dissolution continued the injunction until next Wednesday morning, in order to give the State a chance to amend its petition This is considered a victory for the Roby people, as there is a question whether the Governor will consent to risk a damage suit by signing in person. Several attempts were made by the State's attorneys to have a new case filed with local parties as informants, but no one could be found who would consent to the use of their names. Attorney-general W. A. Ketcham was present at the trial and left for Indianapolis to-night with the papers, which will be presented to Governor Matthews to-morrow or signature. The State was represented by Attorney-general Ketcham and Hon.

Johannes Kopelke, while Edward Roby, A.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE CHANGES ITS MIND ABOUT SILVER.

State Convention to Be Held to Consider the Financial Question-Hoke Smith Explains.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 .- By a vote of 12 to 2 the Democratic central committee, in session to-day at the Southern Hotel, decided to call a State silver convention. The convention will be held at Portle Springs. The date fixed was Aug. 6, 1895. J. B. Thomas, of the Third, and A. C. Steuver, of the Tenth district, were the only ones voting against the proposition. Chairman Maffitt cast his own vote and two proxies which he held for a convention. On June 1 the committee met and voted 10 to 5 against holding a convention to consider the financial question, and this change has been brought about by the friends of silver, who have been agitating the question ever

On the assembling of the committee

Chairman Maffitt, in explanation of his course, said: "Early in May, about the 5th to the 10th, the chairman read articles in certain newspapers stating that the Democrats of the State wanted the committee convened to call a convention to take action on the monetary question. As it has been usual to call a meeting about the first of June, I waited twenty days to see what course matters would take. I was under fire all the time. On May 29 I called the meeting for June 1. The question was discussed. Only eleven counties had responded, and when the question of holding a convention was put to a vote it was lost by a vote of 10 to 5. The committee was not in favor of holding a convention in an off year. Subsequently, both by letter, personal solicitation and through the press, I was requested to reconvene the committee. On June 22 I received a communication from Chairman J. W. Farris, of Laclede county, stating that he had a number of communications he would like to lay before the State committee. I met Mr. Farris that afternoon and informed him that the chairman would not consider any communication he might have. I told Mr. Farris that I would reconvene the committee at the request of a majority of the members. I explained to him that I would require a majority, because a majority of the on the monetary question. As it has been require a majority, because a majority of the committee had already voted against holding a convention. Furthermore, as a concession, and in a spirit of fairness, I said I would convene the committee as soon as a majority of the counties had been heard from. I told Mr. Farris that on Saturday I would issue a circular to the chairmen of the county committees to facilitate the work of securing their desires on this point. I was taken sick, however, and was not able to issue the circular until Tuesday. As soon as I received replies from the chairmen of a majority of the county committees asking that the committee be reconvened the order was issued." In executive session the committee fixed the basis of representation in the conven-tion at one delegate to every five hundred votes and fraction over 250 of the Cleve-land vote of 1892. This will make a convention of about six hundred delegates.

WHY HE IS AGAINST SILVER.

Hoke Smith Tells of His Conversion to Sound Money. WASHINGTON, July 15 .- Secretary Hoke Smith's attention was called to-day to an article published yesterday charging that he had been at one time an advocate of the silver free coinage and subtreasury plans of the Farmer's Alliance. It was said that five years ago he published a letter advocating these views. Speaking on the suject, the Secretary said:

"My attention has just been called to he publication of a letter written by me in September, 1890, to Hon. W. L. Peek and published at that time in the Atlanta Journal. The Journal was then openly opposing the subtreasury scheme and my personal opposition to it was well understood. The letter clearly excluded the idea of committing me to all of the seven propositions which it presented, although it was known that I did favor the free coinage of silver. I was giving most of my attention to professional work at that time and without thorough investigation, that the free coinage of silver would carry the value of the silver bullion coined into a dollar to par and also keep silver and gold dollars upon a parity with equal pur-chasing power. Since then I have given to the subject much more study, and, being thoroughly satisfied that the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 would result in silver monometallism, I have for several years openly opposed it.

Little Interest in Silver.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 15 .- Reports from meetings held throughout the State to-day to elect delegates to the free silver convention to be held at Griffin, on Thursday, indicate general lack of interest. At Douglassville only twelve attended the meeting. At Dalton there were fifty-seven present but all were Populists except twenty-five At Forsythe the meeting was attended by but eleven. At Thomaston there were only thirteen present, and the same number at-tended in Madison. The unexpected lack Uprising Against Tax Gatherers. GRAYSON, Ky., July 15.—On Thursday last four mules, the property of the Lexington and Carter County Mining Company, were seized by the deputies of J. V Peck, railroad tax collector, and brought to this city to be sold to-day to satisfy the railroad tax. Owing to the appearance of about two thousand mounted men the sale did not take place. Peck and his deputies could not be found. This is an outgrowth of the railroad war.

A COMMON CAUSE of SICKNESS

IN WARM WEATHER NOTHING SO DANGEROUS AS DECAYED FOODS.

Every one knows or ought to know that decayed foods are poisonous. Boards of health seek to prevent their sale. We now have in mind the results which follow the decay and decomposition of foods after they have been eaten, for unless digestion occurs within a reasonable time after our meals, decomposition sets

If dyspeptics will stop and consider for a moment some of the symptoms of their trouble, such as disagreeable breath, eructations of gas or bad taste in the mouth, they will understand that they all must come from decaying foods that ought properly to have been absorbed into the system. Spots before the eyes; dizziness, sleeplessness, dyspeptic headacnes are but a few of the effects following the absorption into the blood of poisons developed from decomposing and undigested food that lies It was a recognition of this important fact that caused the Mount Lebanon

Shakers to devote so much of their time to the preparation of a remedy for dyspepsia, and nothing is more efficient than the Digestive Cordial which they have recently placed on the market. The importance of their invention will be appreciated when we realize what a proportion of the community are victims of some form of stomach isouble. Thusands of pale, thin people have little inclination to eat, and what they do eat causes them pain

Its action is so prompt that relief frequently follows the very first dose. It restores the appetite and increases the weight. Plumpness and strength take the place of weakness and that care-worn expression which points out the dyspeptics in every community. The local druggists are now giving away interesting descriptive pamph-

The Result of Investigation.

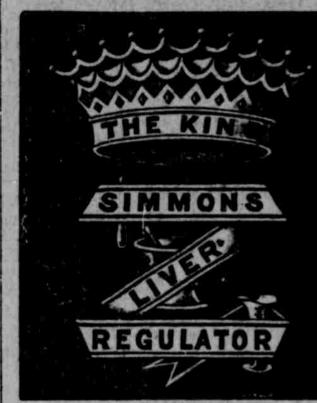

New evidence is constantly coming to light, and the case grows clearer. The evidence of eminent physicians.

WHAT CAME OF IT.

Dr. Richardson, of London, after long in vestigation and careful study, is positive that the seat of melancholia is the liver. And Dr. Andrew Wilson, in a recent publication, declares that melancholia has long been attributed to black bile. Ugh! Bile is bad enough, but black bile is worse, when its effects are so serious as declared by so eminent authority. Never before in the history of medical jurisprudence has so much attention been given to the study of the liver as is being done now. It is the largest organ in the body, and the least respected, although the most important in maintaining health. Melancholia is a dejected state ing health. Melancholia is a dejected state of one's spirits, and often without any seeming cause. And yet here is the testimony of two learned physicians who give the cause, and very satisfactory to any who have given attention to the study of physiology, and especially the liver.

Wake up your liver, reader. Ye desponded and dejected, and ye who have Dyspersia and know what Biliousness and Headache means, wake up your liver. It is the root of all evil. If you're in doubt about the condition of your liver just take Simmons Liver Regulator, anyhow, and we'll venture the statement that you'll not long venture the statement that you'll not long be in doubt about the condition of your health it will be A 1.
